Going the extra mile for cancer

Swansea Bay Health Charity has reached it's £200,00 target for the 'Going the Extra Mile for Cancer Appeal'.

Aim: To transform the former chemotherapy unit at the South West Wales Cancer Centre, Singleton Hospital, into a modern outpatient department, creating a warmer, more welcoming environment for patients while bringing key cancer services together in one location.

The landmark was reached following the success of Touched by Cancer, a women's touch rugby tournament held on Saturday 8th August, which raised an incredible £58,000 for the appeal, taking fundraising beyond its ambitious £200,000 target.

Going the extra mile for cancer

A Swansea artist Jeff Phillips has donated a unique painting of the Lord Mayor's Regatta to help raise funds for a cancer appeal championed by former Lord Mayor Councillor Cheryl Philpott.

During her time as Lord Mayor of Swansea, Cheryl has raised a fantastic £26,543.13 (not including the painting shown)

Appeal

Our 'Lighting Up Lives Appeal' is helping to bring some festive cheer to wards across Swansea Bay University Health Board this Christmas. Each ward can access a grant to support festive activities, from Christmas Day treats and a special spread for staff, to ward decorations and activities for patients.

Trees located at:

- Morriston
- NPT
- Singleton
- Gorseinon (New)

Last Christmas, our sponsors and supporters helped us raise £3,677

Amazon Wishlists

Purpose

Amazon Wish Lists provide an easy way for corporate partners and members of the public to donate items directly to wards and departments across Swansea Bay University Health Board.

Allows staff members and the charity to ensure appropriate governance and record keeping, all Amazon Wish Lists must be created and managed through Swansea Bay Health Charity. This enables the Charity to maintain oversight of donations received and ensure all gifts can be appropriately recorded on the Charity's Gifts in Kind Register.

Morrison Refurbishment

End of Life – Mouth Care

Mouth care remains one of the most important ways to maintain comfort, cleanliness, and dignity during the final stages of life as a person approaches the end of life.

At this sensitive time mouth care become increasingly important, provision of good daily mouthcare can significantly affect someone in their final moments.

Swansea Bay Health Charity's Morriston General Fund is providing funding to support initiatives aimed at reducing hospital-acquired pneumonia and improving compassionate end-of-life care.
