Cais Rhyddid Gwybodaeth / Freedom of Information request Ein Cyf / Our Ref: 22-H-046

You asked:

Regarding the discovery of skeletal human remains found on the mountainside of Resolven, Neath on 9th December 1979: The remains were removed to Swansea Coroners Office and an inquest was held on August 1980. The remains were released for burial and paid for by "the local authority".

Neath Council have confirmed that they hold no information relating to this and Swansea council have responded that the NHS health board would have paid for public health funerals rather than them. Therefore I am requesting any information that you hold relating to this matter.

I would like to know who handled the funeral and also the resting place of the unidentified male who became known as The Glamorgan Man.

I can confirm that Swansea Bay Health Board does not hold this information. In line with archiving and document retention policies, information such as this would not be kept by the health board for longer than 30 years.
